

As we start to think about the end of the year we are yet again with the help of this wonderful publication here to spread a bit of the creativity regularly appearing which is now routinely all around SE20. We have been very fortunate to see a lovely little spate of fresh creations appear over the last month, with ourselves facilitating some 17 artworks over the last month around the area for our SprayExhibition20 community Street Art project.

For our last piece to share this year we are going to look at an incredible work placed up a couple of weeks back in Empire Square, at the heart of Penge.. Many of you now will have seen this wall in person due to its size and location along Penge High Street, its quite hard to miss and obviously to say an exceptional space donation from the generous owners. The work is a collaboration from Street Artist Nerone, who has previously painted in Penge twice over the years, and Graffiti Writer Ben Eine. For this striking wall Ben Eine wrote the word "UNITY" through the centre of the composition in his iconic typographical circus font, whilst Nerone surrounded the text with some of his beautiful retro print-style flowing flowers.

We would as always wish to say thank you to everyone involved over the last five odd years supporting this project, who have all helped transform the face of Penge and Anerley into the wonderful creative hub we all get to explore and enjoy now! In this instance, thank you to the Landlord for donating such an incredible space. As well as a massive thank you to Nerone and Ben Eine for taking the time to visit our hometown and leaving such an absolutely fabulous artwork in the process. We wish to say a big thank you to the team at Designer Drapes for helping us out so much over the weekend. Last and by no means least THANK YOU to SE20 Magazine for all the support.

As always if anyone wishes to participate and support the project further by offering up their public spaces, please email callinglondoninfo@gmail.com or visit www.pengestreetart.com where you can register your interest in donating a public space for us to paint and we will get back to you.
