

HELLO FROM CELEBRANT KATHRYN

“You deserve more than a template wedding ceremony, your names inserted here and there. A celebrant wedding means you can reflect your personalities, make it true to you, involve your pets, chose any location you like (even your own garden!) and celebrate in a way that’s 100% you! The wedding ceremony is, let’s face it, the whole reason for the day so it shouldn’t be just the boring bit you skip through – It should set the tone and get the festivities started!”

Hello! I’m Kathryn, an accredited Humanist Wedding Celebrant. I create unique wedding ceremonies for modern couples who want a wedding that’s relaxed, warm and joyful. Couples planning personal touches that celebrate their quirks and passions. Couples who aren’t keen on following the crowd but want their ceremony to still feel familiar and meaningful!

Every ceremony I create for each couple I have the joy to marry, is written completely from scratch. You deserve so much more than a standard ceremony with limited options. Each and every word I write in your personal wedding ceremony, is unique to you, and comes from our conversations as I get to know you both as we plan your ceremony together.

I’ll make sure that instead of feeling constrained by tradition and expectation, your wedding ceremony is unique; full of warmth, fun and joy, while still absolutely true and inclusive to you! I travel all over, creating wedding ceremonies for couples who want a fabulous ceremony, but am often found marrying couples in my beloved South London!

You deserve a wedding ceremony that’s more than a tick-box exercise! Your ceremony can be joyful, laughter-filled, full of sincerity and emotion. Less the ‘bit before the party’, more the start of the celebration!
